

THE PALMER COURSE

A Signature Design by Arnold Palmer

Ingeniously routed on hilly, roller coaster-like terrain, the 6,916-yard Palmer Course boasts dramatic elevation changes – up to 50 feet in some places. That varied menu of shot-making opportunities is further enhanced by a mixture of natural preserve areas, generously wide fairways and strategically placed bunkers across all eighteen holes. For golfers that want to “go for broke” Arnie style, the short par four 7th hole is vintage Palmer. This quintessential high risk/high reward hole begs for a heroic tee shot and a chance for Eagle or Birdie.

THE WATSON COURSE

A Signature Design by Tom Watson

If the Watson Course is a challenge, it is certainly a beautiful one. A traditional parkland layout with a windswept, native appearance, this 7,154-yard, par 72 beauty is framed by 15 varieties of native grasses, azaleas, hibiscus, camellias and other foliage. Says Watson: “Golf attracts more players than any other outdoor sport. No doubt there are almost as many reasons for this as there are players, but one reason is certainly shared by all. It’s the simple pleasure of being on a beautiful course.”

THE NICKLAUS COURSE

A Signature Design by Jack Nicklaus

Precision shot making certainly comes into play on the 7,244 yard, par 72 Nicklaus Course. This Parkland-style layout is a natural gem...smooth and flowing, with long horizon lines as well as elevated tee boxes and greens. Nicklaus has created a unique variety of risk/reward opportunities, with each hole challenging the golfer to organize a series of shots in his or her mind before ever stepping up to the ball.

All play is governed by the U.S.G.A. Rules of Golf and any local rules endorsed by the Reunion Resort and Club.

LOCAL RULES

- In the absence of OB stakes, interior edges of all roadways and fences define out of bounds.
- A ball in sand waste bunkers, may be removed from footprints and machine tracks to the nearest point of relief, no closer to the hole, without penalty.
- Drop Zones are located on the Palmer course holes 7, 14, and 15. Nicklaus course #16.

CLUB ETIQUETTE/PACE OF PLAY

- No outside food and beverage.
- Please sand divots and rake bunkers.
- Groups that fall behind a 4 hour 15 minutes pace may be asked to move into position by skipping a hole and/or allow others to play through.
- Please repair all pitch marks on greens.
